U. S. Speaks for Peace, Strength, Eisenhower Says

President Delivers Christmas Message; Lights 67-Foot Tree

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in ceremonies marking the beginning of the capital's holiday festivities to the Prince of Peace, Friday told the world in a Christmas message the United States "speaks for peace" and "speaks from strength."

The President spoke in a park south of the White House where he lighted a 67-foot-high Christmas tree which will be the center of Washington's "Pageant for Peace."

"She speaks for peace based upon decency and human rights," the President said. "But let no man think that we want peace at any price; that we shall forsake principle in resigned tolerance of obvious evil; that we may pawn our honor for transitory concessions."

"America speaks from strength—strength in good allies, in arms, in readiness, in ever-increasing productivity, in the broader sharing of the abundant fruits of our economy, in our unchanging devotion to liberty and human justice," Unquenchable Hope.

The President said that this year "mankind's unquenchable hope for peace burns brighter than for many years" but still is dimmed by the threat of Communist aggression.

"Oppression, privation, cruel suffering of body and mind imposed by inhuman masters of helpless victims—these scourges still wound the daily living of mankind," he said.

Mr. Eisenhower then addressed himself to America's allies, to the so-called neutral nations and to "those who stand against us."

He called on the allies to join this nation in enlarging "the design of our partnership so that we, who marched together in evil days when war and fear of war darkened the earth, shall enjoy together in days of light the rich rewards of a secure and stable era."

Respects Their Decision

To the neutral nations, he said that while today's world crisis casts "grave doubt . . . upon the validity of the neutralist argument," this country still will respect the right of such nations to make their own decisions.

"Because they hate aggression and condemn wars for conquest, even as we, there is provided a strong foundation upon which we can proceed to build mutual understanding and sympathy."

"To those who stand against us," the President promised, we will continue to follow "the hard way of patient, tireless search in every avenue that may lead to their better understanding of our peaceful purposes."

Scold GI for Flag Disrespect

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—An Army private at first threatened with court-martial for failing to salute the American flag has been severely reprimanded instead.

Brig. Gen. John H. Burns, commander of the Army Chemical Center here, administered the reprimand Friday after finding "absolutely no evidence of disloyalty" involved.

Pvt. Bruce A. Wallace, 24, Ridgewood, N. J., a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was scolded for ducking into the company orderly room instead of coming to attention when retreat was sounded and the flag was hauled down on a rainy Nov. 3.

The company commander, 1st Lt. Carl L. Teschman, ordered Wallace to report to him the next morning. According to Teschman, Wallace said he felt his services in the Army were a waste of time and he did not believe the flag required his respect.

On Dec. 6 Wallace made out a sworn statement in effect denying disrespect for the flag or any feeling that his Army service was a waste of time.

Burns, also an MIT graduate, said Wallace told him he was very sorry for his oversight and didn't realize some of his remarks would be viewed in their present light. Burns said Wallace promised to be a better soldier in the future.

OIL REPORT:

Flanders Well Flows 1680 Barrels Day; New Hot Spot at Eldorado

By JERRY ROBERTSON

Tri-State Oil Reporter

W. C. McBride's "Jackpot" wildcat in Eldorado township, the C. O. Flanders No. 1, SW NE SE, 10-8S-7E, kicked off flowing at a rate of 70 barrels of oil per hour (at rate of 1680 a day) after fracturing the Waltersburg sand at 2117-36. The total depth was 3040.

This report is for the week ending Dec. 16, a period during which three completions brought two oil wells and one hole that was dry and abandoned.

Besides the Flanders operation there is another hot spot on the west edge of Eldorado where Roy Pledger's Clark Communized Unit No. 1 in Section 20, 8S-7E, flowed 1200 barrels of oil a day after fracturing the Waltersburg at 2123-53. This operation was shut down for tank space.

Wells Brought In

Oil wells that came in during the period were:

1. Dee Miller's Spurlock-Rapp-Jones Communized No. 3, 43 feet

and 330 feet west of the SE NE SW, 2-8S-6E (Raleigh) where an oil well was made in the Cypress at 2541-2611. Initial production was 68 barrels per day on pump after fracture.

2. The Davis-Menhall Lucile Gosch Communized No. 1, SE NE NW, 20-8S-7E, which made an oil well in the Tar Springs at 2184-95. It was drilled to a depth of 2195 and stopped in saturation. Initial production was seven barrels per day on flow through a 5-16 inch choke.

Dry and abandoned was Calvert's Glen Fowler No. 1, NE SE NE, 11-8S-7E.

Pump Test Bona Well

Other activity in Saline county as of Dec. 16:

Oil management - Calvert-Mahut-Jones No. 1, NW SW NE, 23-8S-5E, (Brushy) was on pump testing the Paint Creek sand at 2676-84.

Staked for drilling was the John D. Upchurch's Bertha B. Bishop No. 1, NE NE SW, 10-8S-6E.

Walker's De Vera Burg, 459 feet north and 330 feet east of the SW NE SW, 34-8S-6E, was drilling at 1412.

Calvert located for drilling four tests, all in Section 2 of Eldorado township as follows: J. Brill Communized No. 1, SW SE NE, Owen Reader No. 1, SE SW NE; Amanda Scroggins at No. 2, NE SE SW; and M. M. Endicott No. 5, SW SE SW.

Paco Petroleum's Clara Barrett et al No. 1, 330 feet south and 780 feet west of the NE SE SW, 7-8S-7E, was located for drilling.

Await Cement

Southern Oil Development's Barney Neel No. 1, SE NE NE, 9-8S-7E, was waiting on cement to set five and a half inch casing at 2960 to test the Aux Vases at 2922-38. Total depth was 3015. A one hour drill stem test in the Paint Creek sand at 2707-14 recovered ten feet of oil cut mud with a bottom hole pressure of 0. A 75 minute drill stem test in the Benoist at 2785-2801 recovered 525 feet of gas and

Wham turned down the motions without hearing arguments from government attorneys.

"In so far as there may have been weakness in the evidence it was for the jury to determine," Wham said. "I think it was right in its verdict."

Before making his ruling, Wham issued a stern warning against questioning of jurors after a verdict is returned. John J. Hoban, attorney for Dale, admitted he had talked with some of the jurors.

"The jurors were afraid and got the impression they were seated in a courtroom with armed hoodlums," Hoban said. "They were in an hysterical state from the second day of the trial until the verdict was rendered."

He said one of the women jurors cried while seated in the jurors' box.

Four Students En Route Home Die in Crash

CHRISMAN, Ill. (AP)—Four students going home for the holiday vacation were killed late Friday night when their car smashed into a halted semi-trailer on U. S. 36 four miles west of here.

Killed were Herbert Haffner, 25, Catasauqua, Pa.; Howard Brodsky, 30, and Melvin Rabinowitz, 21, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Constantine Mazruganis, 20, a Greek exchange student going to visit a Greek Orthodox priest at Lancaster, Pa.

Mazruganis was a student at Northeast Missouri Teachers College and the other three men were students at the Kirkville, Mo., College of Osteopathy.

Lewis Hamada, 25, another student in the car, was taken to the Paris, Ill., hospital where his condition was reported good today.

Edgar County Coroner Harlan Owen was driving behind the students when the accident occurred.

Owen said the students' car, owned and driven by Haffner, passed him on the slick but not icy highway at a speed of 60 to 65 m.p.h. A short distance ahead the trailer truck had stopped while two other cars that had collided were being moved off the highway. The students' car crashed into the rear of the trailer.

New Service Station Opens

The new Gulf service station at Church and Vine streets behind the Harrisburg postoffice opened today with Floyd Kimbro, local resident, the operator.

Employed by Kimbro as assistants are Norman Parish and Lou Ray Williams.

Kimbro announced that a formal opening would be held later.

There has been a service station at this corner for years but it was bought recently by Ed Gaskins, who constructed a new washing and greasing building and remodeled the original service station building. He leased the premises to Bob Cavender, local Gulf distributor.

Brewer, Son, Two Pilots Die In Plane Crash

Wealthy Frederick Miller Was Former Notre Dame Star

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The flaming crash of a private twin-engine plane in a snow-covered field Friday night snuffed out the lives of wealthy Milwaukee brewer Frederick C. Miller, his son and two pilots.

Miller, 48, a onetime All-American tackle at Notre Dame who later helped bring the Boston Braves to Milwaukee, died of severe burns and other injuries about five hours after the crash.

His son, Frederick Jr., 22, and the two pilots, brothers Joe Laird, 39, and Paul, 32, were killed instantly, their bodies burned beyond recognition.

In another plane crash Friday night, three airmen were killed when their light plane apparently overshot a runway and smashed into the top of a tree near Delhi, La.

Two of the dead were identified as M. Sgt. Bernard Hartley, 27, and Pfc. Wilbur Farmer Jr., 22, both of Delhi and stationed at Maxwell Field, Ala. The third airman was not immediately identified.

At Brampton, Ont., 23 persons escaped almost certain death when they scrambled from a crash-landed Trans-Canada Airlines plane seconds before it exploded. The blast scattered wreckage for a half mile and all 23 persons suffered burns, abrasion or shock.

The Milwaukee crash occurred exactly a minute after Miller and the others took off for Winnipeg, Man., for a pre-Christmas hunting trip in the brewery-owned B34 Lockheed Ventura plane. The younger Miller, a Notre Dame student, had driven from the school to make the trip.

Witnesses said they saw sparks burst from one of the plane's engines moments after takeoff.

Paul Laird, at the controls, told the Civil Aeronautics Authority control tower he had engine trouble and was turning back. The plane crashed before he could make the swing, however.

Flames 40 to 50 feet high burst out as the craft smashed down three quarters of a mile from the airport near a residential section.

Predict 3 Million More Vets to Use GI Loan Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration today predicted more than 3,000,000 additional World War II and Korean war veterans will use their GI loan benefits the next few years.

This number would be in addition to the 3,500,000 veterans who already have borrowed more than $23,500,000,000 for homes, farms, and businesses.

In the 10-year report of the GI loan guaranty program, VA said it seems reasonable to assume that at least 1,000,000 more loans would be made to World War II veterans and at least 2,000,000 to veterans of the Korean conflict.

Most World War II veterans have until July 25, 1957, to obtain GI loans. Post-Korean veterans have until 10 years after the end of the present emergency, a date yet to be determined by presidential proclamation or by congressional resolution.

The report dubbed the legislative and administrative history of the GI loan program "a bold venture in veterans' benefits." VA boss Harvey Hixley said it is "the greatest government sponsored credit venture" of its kind.

Agree Eisenhower Must Use Influence to Win Approval Of New Manpower Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders agreed today that President Eisenhower will have to exert his full influence with the new Congress to win approval of his new military manpower proposals.

Christmas Spirit Shown in School Room Decorations

All the spirit, beauty and color of Christmas is depicted in the grade schools of Harrisburg as each room has gone all out in decorating walls and windows and creating Christmas scenes.

The school holiday will start with the close of classes Tuesday afternoon—and extends until Monday, Jan. 3. Plays and musical programs have been presented the past several days and most rooms will have parties Tuesday afternoon.

Parents and friends have been visiting the rooms in unusually large numbers and all have been impressed with the artistic ability of the students, working under the direction of their instructors.

One room that was of particular interest at Horace Mann school was the room for the mentally handicapped children. This room is taught by Mrs. Fred Bramlet.

The decorations were bright and cheerful and showed remarkable ability in the use of the hands.

These children, there are thirteen enrolled in the room, are slow in their academic accomplishments, but the work of decorating the room for the Christmas season shows a definite ability to use their hands and a good color perspective.

The chief attraction is the Land of Christmas, with Santa Claus' castle occupying the center spot, surrounded with sugar plum trees and a marshmallow fence.

The children also have done textile painting that is very attractive.

Post Office Stamp Windows Open Sunday Afternoon

Postmaster A. M. Hetherington announced today the stamp windows in the postoffice will be open Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. due to the Christmas rush of mailing. All mail will be delivered, also Sunday, he stated.

Next week, Monday through Thursday, the postoffice windows will be open until 6 p. m.

The Christmas mail is heavier than usual this year, Mr. Hetherington stated, and asked those mailing cards and letters to separate the out of town from the in-town mail.

Burglars Fail to Open Safe; Take Auto

Burglars entered the Pool Pontiac agency on U. S. 45 in East Harrisburg during the night and left with a 1953 Pontiac automobile.

Chief of Police Loren Travelstead said that the burglars entered through a rear window and knocked the combination off the safe in an unsuccessful attempt to get it open.

Then they took a 1953 Pontiac two-tone gray coach that belonged to the company and departed. There were no license plates on the car.

No projections have been made beyond 1968, he said, because income is expected to represent normal operating revenue by that time.

The toll rate per mile, Howell said, will be 1 1/2 cents for passenger autos and light trucks; 2 1/4 cents for six-tire trucks; 3 cents for three axle trucks; 4 1/2 cents for four axle trucks and 6 cents for five axle trucks.

He said the average overall rate would be 1.66 cents a mile. Out of state vehicles will pay about 16.9 per cent of the total income received.

Dempsey Rites Sunday at 2 p. m.

Funeral services for Bobbie Gene Dempsey, Carrier Mills resident who was fatally injured in a coal mine accident Thursday night, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Church of God on North Main street in Carrier Mills.

Rev. Carl Hanvey and Rev. Ernest Ammon will officiate, and burial will be in the Salem cemetery. The Miller funeral home will be in charge.

Second Day of Deliberations For Verdict

Apparent Deadlock Indicated On Decision By Jury

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five housewives and seven husbands passed the 24-hour mark weighing the case of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today apparently deadlocked on whether it will be liberty, death, or prison for the osteopathic surgeon.

There was no sign that the Sheppard wife-murder jury had been even close to a decision since it got the case at 10:13 a. m. Friday. The jury had asked the judge no questions, requested no re-reading of testimony, made no queries on difficult points of law.

The deliberations are in absolute secrecy in a room with seven potted plants and more than 200 exhibits ranging from slain Marilyn Sheppard's faded blue blood-soaked pajamas to Lake Erie sand shaken from the soiled socks of her husband.

Visited By Brother

Dr. Sheppard, 30, was in his bare-walled single jail cell, cell number 1-B, on the fourth floor of the same building.

His brother, Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, 34, and his wife Betty, visited Dr. Sam during the morning.

He pointed out the five women and seven men must sift through more than a million words of testimony and more than 200 exhibits to make their decision.

Brothers of the defendant, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, began to feel the strain of waiting as the jury continued to weigh the facts in his first degree murder trial for the slaying of his pregnant wife Marilyn.

"It's been a long time, it looks bad," said one.

The jurors, up to the time they were sent to the Carter Hotel in downtown Cleveland for the night, had spent eight hours and 55 minutes in actual deliberation, having taken time out for meals. They received the case at 10:13 a. m. EST Friday.

Judge Blythin, who sent two bailiffs along with them, told the jurors to return this morning and go immediately to their jury room and resume deliberations.

Wants Early Start

"We hope you are all well and back here at 9:15 a. m. and on the job," the judge said.

Dr. Sam, up with the other prisoners by 6 o'clock this morning, breakfasted in the day room of his cell block on cereal with milk, black coffee, and bread and jelly.

Then he returned to his bare-walled single cell and sat waiting. The strain was beginning to show on his two brothers and sisters-in-law, but the 30-year-old defendant wore the same impassive look when the jury was sent to bed as he has through the nine-week trial. Today was the 43rd court day, there having been three holidays since selection of the jury began last Oct. 18.

May Deliberate All Day

This was the first Saturday of the trial. Judge Blythin said there was no law against his having the jury deliberate all day. He also said, "I can stop it any time I choose."

Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, 38, Dr. Sam's oldest brother, stood gripping the wooden rail of the jury box Friday night after the jurors had filed out. The defendant, behind his guard, started to follow them.

"Sam wait!" called out defense attorney Fred W. Garmone. He went to Dr. Sam, put his arm around his shoulder, and spoke a few low words of encouragement.

Dr. Sam looked over his shoulder and smiled at Dr. Richard and Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, 34, another brother, before he left.

The jury can send Dr. Sam to the electric chair if it finds him guilty as charged. The state has accused him of beating his 31-year-old wife to death last July 4 after quarreling with her about his affairs with other women.

An Absurd Story

Editorial — BY BRUCE BROSSAT

Over the years, we in the free world have grown accustomed to the weird distortions of Communist propaganda. But now and then the Reds turn up with a yarn so utterly fantastic one can't help wondering who they really think will buy it.

Such a tale is the shocking fabrication about the 13 Americans sentenced for "spying." Anthony Nutting, British delegate to the United Nations, put his finger on the basic absurdity in the Communists' story better than anyone has done.

That absurdity is the idea that any country bent upon espionage would pile 11 uniformed men in a single plane and send them off to search out enemy secrets.

What more perfect advertisement could they offer of their hostile intentions, except perhaps red light bulbs attached to their noses? As Nutting asked in addressing the UN:

"Is this the sort of suiting in which he (an American spy) would best hope to slip unobtrusively into a Chinese military headquarters and send them off to search out enemy secrets?"

"Such thoughts could only issue from a mind confused and haunted by spy mania."

It is quite true, of course, that in their characteristically warped mental state most Communists consider any foreign national an automatic candidate for suspicion of espionage. But, on the other hand, the Red Chinese know full well that uniformed men captured in the course of Korean fighting are subject to the laws of war, and cannot be by any stretch of the imagination be held as spies.

Furthermore, they must understand that their fantasy could not be believed in any but perhaps the most glib circles, i. e., in India and among certain British Laborites. Consequently, the purpose must merely be to humiliate the United States in Asian and world eyes, and to impress on the home folk how wicked the Western world is.

For only glibbie neutralists and walled-in Communists could imagine that America would be so thoroughly stupid as to send out spies garbed in conspicuous military attire. The hallmark of the spy is his acceptance by the enemy as fully trustworthy.

The man who believes the Chinese story will not be remembered so much for his anti-American attitude as for the low measure of his own intelligence.

Disk Jockeys Pick Sinatra, Rosemary Clooney Best; 'Hey There' Top Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's disk jockeys have picked Rosemary Clooney and Frank Sinatra as the most popular vocalists of 1954 and "Hey There" as the record most demanded by their listeners.

That's the outcome of a poll taken by the United Press of record spinners at radio stations across the country. A total of 726 ballots were received.

The 37-year-old Sinatra pulled the big surprise by barely edging out Eddie Fisher as the top male vocalist on the disk jockey list. Miss Clooney won by a sizeable margin as top female vocalist with Kitty Kallen second.

The top records were "Hey There" (Rosemary Clooney—Columbia); "Little Things Mean a Lot" (Kitty Kallen—Decca); "Young at Heart" (Sinatra—Capitol); "Wanted" (Perry Como—Columbia); "Secret Love" (Doris Day—Columbia).

The male vocalist outcome, with total votes, was: Sinatra 195, Fisher 190, Como 142, Nat Cole 48, Bob Manning 21, and bunched closely behind in order, Bing Crosby, Don Cornell, Tony Bennett, Tony Martin, Gordon MacRae and Frankie Laine.

The female vocalist outcome was Rosemary Clooney 292, Kitty Kallen 112, Doris Day 86, Patti Page 56, Kay Starr 30, and behind them, Jo Stafford, Sarah Vaughan, Ella Fitzgerald, June Christy, Dinah Shore, Peggy Lee and Joni James. The winners in other divisions polled were:

Top vocal group—Four Aces. Big band—Ray Anthony. Small instrumental group—George Shearing.

Rhythm and blues—Bill Haley. Country artist—Eddy Arnold.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Sam Rayburn Tried To Beg Off White House Conference; Congressmen Cannon Forgot His Glasses At White House Meeting; McCarthy's Newspaper Foe Faces Court Decision In Nevada.

WASHINGTON — The President's conference with Democratic leaders was just as harmonious as described in the newspapers except for one small point which few knew about except like himself.

When Speaker-to-be Sam Rayburn got word that he was to come all the way from Texas to Washington just for one day, he telephoned his fellow Texan, Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

"Is there any reason why I should make that long trip?" he asked, and went on to point out that Eisenhower already knew he could depend on the Democrats regarding national defense and foreign policy, and that legislation must be moulded by committee chairmen, not by the Speaker.

Senator Johnson, who was educated by Rayburn in the House of Representatives, agreed. But he said there wasn't much he could do about it.

So Rayburn called the White House direct.

"It's the committee chairmen who work out legislation, not me," he told the President, and explained that chairmen of committees were sometimes a power unto themselves. Therefore it was far better for the chairmen to confer with the President than the Speaker.

But Ike would have none of it. He insisted that Rayburn make the trip.

So, Mr. Sam, who does not like to fly, got on the train in Dallas and took the long trip to Washington. Then, one day after the White House conference, he turned round and took the train back.

For Rayburn, a bachelor, would n't think of not spending Christmas at home with his sisters. Furthermore, Sam had to pay for the trip out of his own pocket. Though summoned to Washington by Eisenhower, he, not the government, pays his travel expenses. And congressmen's salaries are inexorably low.

JOHNSON REMINDS All this was one reason why Senator Johnson, during the two-hour White House meeting, told Eisenhower that it wasn't much use to talk about certain subjects without the committee chairmen present.

"We are talking about finances, which are handled by Harry Byrd and Jere Cooper," Johnson reminded. "But they're not here."

Eisenhower agreed that they should be consulted, but said his departmental heads would hold conferences with the committee chairmen later.

Eisenhower himself remained in the two-hour conference only briefly. After a gracious opening statement in which he handled himself well, he left the room, then came back from time to time to see how things were progressing.

At one time when a chart was being shown, Congressman Clarence Cannon, who comes from the Mark Twain-Huckleberry Finn district of Missouri and is chairman of the Appropriations committee, was not able to read the figures. He had forgotten his glasses. So White House aides read them aloud.

His eyesight was so bad that, when he left, he picked up the overcoat of Senator Hayden of Arizona by mistake.

EXTENDING FREE TRADE One point which concerned the Democrats — who are strong for national defense — was that when they studied the budget figures presented by Budget Director Hughes, they could not find the five billion extra requested by Secretary of Defense Wilson. Democratic leaders side with Wilson and against economy-minded George Humphrey on this item. They were suspicious when they couldn't find the five billion in the budget.

Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel and head of the President's advisory committee on foreign trade, made an excellent impression when he presented plans for renewing the Reciprocal Trade Act.

"Would a one-year extension of this act make for indefiniteness in trade?" Speaker Rayburn asked. "It certainly would," replied Randall, and explained how business has to plan several years ahead.

Democrats, who passed the Reciprocal Trade Act in the first place, will push to extend it for another three years.

GREENSPUN INDICTMENT

One of the most interesting legal straws in the McCarthy political wind comes up next week in Nevada when U. S. Judge John R. Ross will rule on a motion to dismiss the indictment of editor Hank Greenspun for allegedly endangering the life of Joe McCarthy by stating that he was likely "to come to a violent end."

The indictment was brought when McCarthy was basking in the benign smile of the White House. The dismissal will be passed upon next week when that smile has vanished.

However, it will be passed upon by a federal judge who was appointed on the recommendation of GOP Senator "Molly" Malone, one of McCarthy's close friends who voted for him right down the line.

The indictment has considerable ramifications. Greenspun, editor and publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, had hurled charges at McCarthy which no publisher had printed. But he was not indicted for these charges. What happened was that McCarthy sent to the Post Office Department a particular column which contained the words:

"Joe has to come to a violent end. Live by the sword and you die by the sword. Destroy people, and they in turn must destroy you."

McCarthy suggested to his friend, Postmaster General Summerfield, that, in view of this alleged incitement to assassinate, Greenspun's second-class mailing privileges should be canceled. But Summerfield referred the matter to the Justice Department, which, much to the surprise of everyone — including, it was reported, McCarthy — indicted Greenspun.

The same column, however, contained a repetition of Greenspun's earlier charges that McCarthy was a "pervert," made repeatedly by the Sun and mailed all over the United States, though McCarthy had never sued. This was made a part of the court record, thereby making it privileged. Since then it has been published by Time Magazine and various newspapers. So the Justice Department, instead of doing McCarthy a favor of prosecuting Greenspun, may have done the reverse.

German Special Train Crashes; 14 Dead, 66 Hurt

DORTMUND, Germany (UP) — A special Christmas express speeding through a dawn fog to make up time rammed a crowded local train today, killing 14 persons and injuring 66.

But the steel shell of the modern express train miraculously shielded 300 children aboard it from serious injury.

All deaths and serious injuries were inflicted on passengers of two antiquated coaches of the lumbering local which was pulling out of the Dortmund main station for Hamm.

The collision occurred at 6 a. m. only a few hundred yards from the station.

It took firemen with acetylene torches more than three hours to cut trapped and screaming injured persons from the two wrecked coaches of the local.

Shouts of rescuers mingled with groans of the trapped while the blue-white flicker of the cutting torches flashed in the fog.

The express speeding in from Kiel carried 500 children returning home from holidays in the north country financed by charity and welfare organizations.

"Bags went flying through the air, and some of us got bloody noses," one little girl said.

Most of the children were only shaken.

Shrine Club Entertains Ladies And Children

The Egyptian Shrine club, composed of members of the Mississippi Valley Consistory, had a ladies' night meeting Thursday evening at the Masonic temple, at which 25 children were also entertained.

The guest list of children was completed by Lt. John Kimmons of the Harrisburg Salvation Army Post, and they had a very happy evening. Magic and hypnotism was on the program.

Wayne Green of the Green and Strickland Paint and Wallpaper stores in Marion and Harrisburg, spoke briefly of the science of hypnotism and its uses by medical science. A half dozen volunteered to be hypnotized and he soon had them snoozing away, after which they responded to his directions to sneeze, drive an automobile, (going through the motions) fighting gnats, and laughing at a movie comic.

Before Mr. Green's performance Carroll Porter put on 40 minutes of magic entertainment, slanting his tricks to those appealing most to children, but were also amusing to adults in his audience.

Lee Skaggs, president of the Shrine club, served as master of ceremonies, also presenting Lendall Rockwell, Raleigh, who showed a motion picture in color of the Shrine's hospital for crippled children, which the local club plans to visit early in 1955.

A bus trip with luncheon at the Aina temple in East St. Louis, is proposed, and will be made if a sufficient number are interested, Mr. Skaggs said.

Marvin Barnett, secretary, assisted him with arrangements for the program Thursday evening, which included ice cream cups, cookies, soda pop and coffee as refreshments, with generous volunteer assistance on the part of those present.

Each Noble and his lady attending brought a gift for some underprivileged child, which will be distributed by the Salvation Army in the family Christmas baskets, with a list of 100 families to supply.

Home Bureau Training Schools on Care Kitchen, Bathroom Equipment

Thirty-five local leaders representing 25 Home Bureau units attended a training school on "Care of Kitchen and Bathroom Equipment," with Miss Catherine Sullivan, home management specialist from the University of Illinois, presenting the subject matter.

To keep bathroom and kitchen furnishings attractive and efficient, there are three things to consider—the materials from which the furnishings are made, the cleaning agents available, and the ways in which efficient operation is maintained.

Materials discussed included enamel surfaces, vitreous china, aluminum, rubber and plastics. Cleaning agents included abrasives, solvents, and bleaches.

This lesson will be presented in January and February.

Gibbs Fined For Tax Evasion

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Former State Rep. William F. Gibbs pleaded guilty Friday to charges of income tax evasion on income from "phantom payrollers."

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie fined the Quincy Democrat $1,500. Gibbs had been indicted May 21 by a federal grand jury on charges he rigged his income to avoid a higher bracket by claiming three illegal exemptions.

Gibbs pleaded guilty to grand larceny in Circuit Court earlier this year, was fined $15,000 and placed on probation.

Briggie said the serious offense committed by Gibbs had been settled in Circuit Court and the income tax evasion was an outcome of that fraud.

4,299,763 Tons of Coal Produced in State During November

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois mines produced 4,299,763 tons of coal during November, B. H. Schull, director of the state Department of Mines and Mineral, announced today.

This is 589,002 tons more than was hoisted in October and 317,196 tons more than was mined during November, 1953.

He said the month's tonnage was reported by 128 working mines, employing 13,569 workers. A breakdown of the working mines shows that 87 were shaft and 42 were strip mines.

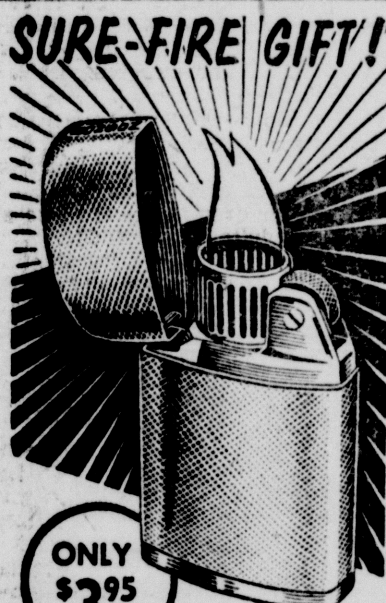

The shaft mines accounted for 2,408,695 tons, while the strip mines produced 1,891,068 tons. Schull said. Leading producers for the month were Fulton county, 654,616 tons; Williamson county, 602,421 tons; and Franklin county, 508,237 tons.

Highest peak of the Canadian Rockies is Mont Robson, 12,972 feet.

825th Replacement Company Enjoys Fun, Fellowship

The spirit of Christmas invaded the local armory Wednesday night and the members of the 825th Replacement company laid aside the regular training program for an hour and enjoyed a coffee-and-pie party.

The 825th Replacement company, reserve unit with headquarters in Harrisburg and commanded by Lonnie Lamkin, Captain, Quartermaster Reserve, meets for a two-hour training period each Wednesday night throughout the year.

Last Wednesday the second hour of the training program was given over to an hour of fun and fellowship with the officers of the company providing the refreshments of coffee and fried pies.

This was the last meeting of the calendar year as the company held extra meetings the first two weeks of December, so a vacation could be taken during the Christmas season.

Training will be resumed Wednesday, Jan. 5.

Put Nitrogen On Wheat Now

You can put nitrogen on wheat any time now with little or no loss by following a few simple precautions.

Nonleachable forms of nitrogen will be safe on nearly all farms, according to E. H. Tyner, University of Illinois agronomist. The nonleachable forms are those that contain ammonium, urea or calcium cyanamid.

Warm soil temperatures cause nonleachable forms of nitrogen to become leachable in time. But Tyner says the soil temperatures throughout the rest of the winter will probably be low enough to prevent leaching.

Soil is drier than usual this year in central and southern Illinois and will absorb more than the normal amount of water. For this reason less water will be likely to drain out of the soil and carry nitrogen with it. Normally, Tyner explains, you will get some winter nitrogen loss because enough rain falls to restock the dry soil and cause some drainage.

It is hard to put nitrogen on some soils early in the spring. Fortunately, these soils are the safest ones on which to put nitrogen in the fall.

For instance, Clarence and Cline soils, and others related to them, have a tight subsoil and lose relatively little moisture from subsurface drainage. So you won't lose much nitrogen that way. On the other hand, these soils stay wet so late in the spring that it's difficult to get into the fields to apply nitrogen then.

Get Dairy Calves Off to Good Start

One way to help your new-born dairy calves get through the first few critical days of life is to be sure they get enough milk from their mothers.

Karl E. Gardner, University of Illinois Dairy Science Department, says some calves may actually starve if their mothers come into milk slowly.

It's important to leave calves with their mothers long enough to get a good supply of the first milk or colostrum, Gardner points out. Colostrum has many properties that will help young calves ward off trouble for the first three or four days of life.

Put iodine on the navel of each calf as soon as possible after birth to help prevent infection from entering at that point.

Dampness is more of a threat to the health of young calves than cold weather, according to Gardner. Have both the maternity stall and calf pen well bedded to keep the calf from becoming chilled when it first arrives.

If the barn is extremely cold or drafty, it may pay to throw a clean sack over the calf and tie it around the hind legs and under the neck for warmth. You won't have any trouble with dampness if the pen is well bedded and there is proper ventilation in the barn.

In cold weather it is also important to warm the milk fed to calves to 100 degrees F. Calf pails should also be thoroughly washed and sterilized. Merely rinsing pails between feedings may let bacteria start to grow and cause scours or diarrhea in the calf.

During the first week or two, two quarts of warm milk per calf at each feeding is enough for the large breeds, while 1-2 quarts is enough for the smaller breeds. After that you can increase the amount a little, but it is better to feed no more whole milk daily than an amount equaling about 10 percent of the weight of the calf.

You can also help your calves off to a good start by providing hay and calf starter as soon as they will eat it.

Plenty of good bedding is one of the best ways to help prevent mastitis in your dairy herd.

With a full feed of corn silage, Carlisle says, a pound of any high protein supplement (36 percent protein or higher), minerals free choice and 2 to 3 pounds of hay daily, if available, will balance the ration.

If the ration is a full feed of legume-grass silage with 4 pounds of corn or other grain and 2 to 3 pounds of hay you won't have to feed a protein supplement. Also, you won't need a supplement with a full feed of legume hay plus 4 pounds of corn or other grain.

If you don't have high-quality roughage, you can use cornstalks, oat straw or other low-quality roughage, Carlisle says. In that case, full-feed the low-quality roughage with 3.5 pounds of a supplement, such as Purdue Supplement A or recommended amounts of any other supplement that is designed especially for low-quality roughages.

It is a good idea to remember that a dairy cow has a nervous system just as do human beings. Denying the milk pail over the cow's anatomy in a fit of anger upsets the cow as well as the individual. Gentle treatment of a dairy animal is paid for many times in good returns.

For the best long term results, follow the rule of allowing the dairy cow at least a 60-day recovery period after calving before having her rebred.

Providing plenty of good bedding and preventing cold drafts on dairy cows will reduce chance of mastitis infection.

The winter season is the time during which farmers find it possible to do more small repair and maintenance jobs. This is a good time to look into the method of doing chores to see if some changes may be made which will save a little time and effort. A little thought on the question easily may result in savings.

Such jobs as feeding, milking, and barn cleaning are done at least once daily. To save a few steps each day quickly mounts up to a considerable saving in time and travel during the year.

Some questions to answer in planning to do routine chore work more efficiently are:

1. Are feed bunks arranged so that they may be filled with minimum walking and time?
2. Are shovels, forks, and other feeding tools placed so that the feeding operation may be done with the least amount of walking?
3. Are tools always kept at a definite location so they are not misplaced?
4. Do you carry feed to each animal individually or do you use a simple cart from which several animals may be fed at one trip from the feed bin?
5. Are the chores so planned that there is no backtracking and loss of time in shifting from one job to another?

The question that every farmer ought to be asking himself by this time is: Have I thoroughly cleaned the grain drill and other farming tools and lubricated them well to prevent rust and corrosion before storing them in the machinery shed? Grain and fertilizer drills are subject to much damaging rust and corrosion.

The life of a building is shortened materially when roof drainage is not carried away properly. Now is a good time to put up new eave troughs or to repair the old ones.

IKE FACES A FARM PROBLEM—Armed with a motion picture camera, President Eisenhower spent over to inspect a couple of Black Angus cows on a farm adjoining his home at Gettysburg, Pa. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower were spending a weekend away from the White House.

Dry Up Cows For Rest Period

To keep up best milk production, all dairy cows need a six to eight-week dry period before they are due to freshen.

Leo R. Fryman, extension dairyman at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says many successful dairymen stop milking abruptly and seal off the ends of the cows' teats when that time arrives.

Fryman says that these dairymen carefully wash the teats with a suitable disinfectant at the last milking and then dip them in colloid.

Colloid hardens and makes a tight seal over the ends of the teats. This seal prevents leaking and keeps germs from entering the udder through the streak canal.

It doesn't take long for enough pressure to build up in the udder to cause materials that come into the udder for making milk to be reabsorbed. This starts the drying-up process.

Regardless of the amount of milk they are producing, cows with normal udders that are free from mastitis can be dried off by this method without harming their udders, Fryman says.

Don't Use "Killer" Burglar Alarm

URBANA—Using guns, dynamite or other explosive materials in homemade burglar alarms can be a fatal mistake.

Proof of this, says Gordon McCleary, executive secretary of the Illinois Rural Safety Council, is the recent death of a Montgomery county farmer who was caught in a shower of flying metal when dynamite hidden in a scrap-iron pile exploded.

The dynamite had been put in the pile by the victim's son during his father's absence from the farm. It was originally set up to frighten would-be gasoline thieves. Although the wires to the trap had been disconnected, the dynamite exploded when the victim tossed a piece of scrap metal on the pile.

The farmer died within half an hour after being struck in the mouth with at least two pieces of flying metal.

Similar tragedies have occurred when guns were rigged as burglar alarms and "clever" traps, says McCleary. Even though you think everyone concerned knows of the alarm you're taking an unnecessary chance. If you need a burglar alarm, get a ready-made one that won't turn out to be a "killer."

Food stores are now selling about half of the retail fluid milk compared with about 10 per cent in 1930.

Big Returns Possible by Fertilizer Use

CHICAGO—Few farmers realize the "unbelievably" big returns possible from the use of fertilizer, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement committee, in citing a recent statement by A. Gordon Ball, Iowa State college economist in agriculture.

Ball said that returns from fertilizer can average from $1 to $3 for every $1 invested.

"On most soils producing less than 75 bushels of corn per acre," he said, "fertilizer can return from 100 to 200 per cent for each dollar spent, when a farmer adds the recommended quantity and ratio of fertilizer for his area, based on soil tests."

"Even in the second year farmers often get an additional dividend from increased crop response due to the fertilizer's carry-over effect. This is occasionally sufficient to pay for the entire cost of the plant food. Chances of loss from fertilizer use are very slim in the Corn Belt."

Ball said that one way for farmers with limited capital to provide money for fertilizer is to use second-hand machinery or have part of their field work done by custom operators. By investing in fertilizer instead of purchasing expensive machinery, they can start immediately on a soil building program that will boost their per acre yields, cut costs of production and increase their profits. These higher profits, in turn, can provide the money to buy machinery a bit later.

New Allotments On Corn Available

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1955 on a farm where no corn was planted during the years 1952, 1953, or 1954 should apply for a "new farm" corn acreage allotment if he wants any price support or an ACP payment in 1955. Paul B. Whitlock, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the chairman explained. However, under the acreage allotment program, the production of corn in 1955 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make all the crops from the farm ineligible for price support in 1955. Likewise, the producer on such a farm would be ineligible for any payment under the 1955 Agricultural Conservation program.

Application forms for "new farms" corn acreage allotments are available at the County ASC office. Jan. 15, 1955 is the last day such applications may be filed.

A University of Illinois dairy marketing specialist says that the dairy industry could profit from using the efficient selling methods of retail stores to bring their milk to consumers at lower prices and increase the consumption of fluid milk.

A University of Illinois soils man says that, if farmers would space out their purchase and spread of fertilizers, they and the truckers and the limestone and plant food industry would all benefit.

Bull Dogs Bow to Marion, 74-61 in Loop Tilt

Saturday, December 18, 1954 Page Seven

CHARLES POLK, BULL DOG GUARD, made two points on this jump shot from back of the free throw line in the game with Marion here last night. Standing back of him is Marion's Jim Anderson and Marion's Harris (52) is in foreground. Guarding Polk, shown high in the air, is Hill, while Harrisburg's Gerald Wasson (32) and Dave Harrison (35) await the outcome of the shot. Marion won, 74 to 61.

Coulterville Ousts Thompsonville in Tamaroa Tourney

Coulterville ousted Thompsonville, 90-71, and Steeleville eliminated Ashley, 60-52, in the semi-final round of the Tamaroa tournament last night. The winners will meet this evening for the championship, and Thompsonville will go against Ashley for third place honors.

Bob Munday's Thompsonville crew shot a fine 490 from the field to Coulterville's 360, but the Randolph county quintet, coached by Bob Farris, connected on 44 free shots to win. The Tigers made only seven charity tosses. With less than four minutes to play, Thompsonville crept within five points, 70-65, of the Farris-men, but the Tiger press drew foul after foul. Coulterville caged 16 gift shots in the fading minutes.

Thompsonville lost four men to personals. Bob Lemmon, only senior on the Tiger squad, tallied 12 points before fouling out in the second period. Gallagher and Phelps each counted 14 free throws for the victors.

Cave-in-Rock Defeats Galatia Bearcats, 76-71

Despite brilliant shooting performances by Glenn Clarida and John Tate, Galatia's Bearcats fell before invading Cave-in-Rock in a torrid Greater Egyptian conference struggle last night, 76-71.

Clarida and Tate each collected 13 field goals, and Clarida added four more points at the foul line. Tate two. This gave the two Bearcats 50 and 28 points respectively, or a total of 58 of Galatia's 71 tally.

Except for these two, however, the Bearcats experienced a troublesome night offensively. Galatia outscored Cave from the field, making 29 to their opponents' 26. Cave was superior at the foul line, caging 25 to Galatia's 13.

The game was tied at the quarter, 17-17, but Cave broke into the lead at halftime, 42-35. Both clubs cooled during the third period with Cave dropping in 11 points to Galatia's eight. In the final period, Sammy Miranda's cagers outscored the invaders 28-23, but the rally was not enough to overtake the Rivermen.

Carrier Mills Wildcats Play Galatia Tonight

A basketball game of top interest in Saline county will be played at Carrier Mills this evening when the Wildcats will be host to Galatia's Bearcats.

All teams in Saline county will be in action, but Harrisburg travels to Johnston City and Eldorado to Anna, so the game at Carrier Mills will be the only one played in the county.

This will mark the third consecutive Saturday night that the basketball schedule has been highlighted by an intra-county clash. Two weeks ago Eldorado invaded and lost to Harrisburg and last Saturday night Carrier Mills made a call to Davenport gym and lost a thriller. Tonight it will be the Wildcats and Bearcats and another top-notch game is in store for local area fans.

The Carrier Mills musical department has a special Christmas program planned for half-time entertainment. In addition to the music there will be special lighting effects.

Motor Cities Most of the nation's motor cars are made in Detroit and motorists of that area drive more of them in proportion to population than any other major city except Los Angeles.

Locals Improved But Unable to Cope With Speed of Marion Crew

Play at Johnston City Tonight in Non-Loop Contest

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs last night bowed to Marion, 74 to 61, in a South Seven conference basketball game and tonight travel to Johnston City for a non-loop contest. Johnston City last night dropped a 62-49 decision to Pinckneyville.

The Bull Dogs showed definite improvement last night over previous contests, playing their best ball of the season, but could not quite cope with the speed, shooting and jumping of the Marion crew, coached by Cliff Storme.

Figures show that the Bull Dogs shot a respectable 400 from the field during the evening but Marion came up with 454. Both teams got 22 shots from the free throw line with Harrisburg making nine, Marion 14.

The first half, during which Marion shot 58 per cent and Harrisburg 47 per cent, and especially the first quarter, in which 50 points were scored—more than six a minute—was especially fast.

Harrisburg never led during the game but during the first quarter stayed close to Marion as Anglin put five baskets through the hoop. The Wildcats led, 28-22, at the end of the first half.

Marion outscored Harrisburg 18 to 12 the second period to lead at the end of the half 46 to 34.

The first half was unusually clean with only six fouls called on Harrisburg and five on Marion. In the third quarter Marion moved to a 20-point lead, holding a 65-45 edge at the end of the period, but in the last quarter Harrisburg outscored the Wildcats, 16 to 9.

Anglin Scores 26 Points Marion is noted for its back-court press and the Bull Dogs withstood it very well in the contest.

High point man for the contest was Harrisburg's David Anglin, who had 11 field goals and four free throws for 26 points. Next came Marion's Joe Wall, who had 25.

In the preliminary contest the Bull Pups looked as good as any Bull Pup team in years as they won over the Marion Wildcats, 61-46, holding a comfortable lead at all times. Outstanding was Ben Fulkerson, who made 17 points, but if he hadn't scored a point he would have been outstanding because of his floor play and his "take charge" prowess.

The Pups led 17-9 at the quarter, 30-23 at halftime and 50-36 at the end of the third quarter.

Ridgway Displays Offensive Power In 105-70 Victory

Al Penman's Ridgway Eagles put on their top offensive show of the season last night, walloping Enfield, 105 to 70, in a terrific offensive display. It was the fifth victory of the season for the Eagles.

Welcomed back to the Ridgway squad last night were Pat Drone and John Mills, two regulars who have been out of action the past few weeks.

Charlie Barter and Denny Drone led the Eagle attack with 26 and 24 counters respectively. Ridgway's other three starters each garnered more than 15 points.

The Eagles took a 27-14 quarter advantage and were never in danger thereafter. Leading 50-28 at the half, they raced on to a 73-48 margin at the third quarter post.

Carroll Downen, Eagle starter, was sidelined last night with a sore foot.

Centralia Derails Champ Rams, 69-50; Panthers Win 54th Straight at Home

SPRINGFIELD — Classic Centralia derailed the defending Illinois prep basketball champions and Rockford West rallied to beat Elgin in top-flight cage competition Friday night.

Centralia maintained its scoring average just under 70 points as the Orphans overpowered 1954 state champ Mount Vernon 69-50. Centralia's seventh victory in that many starts this season.

It was the first loss for Mount Vernon's Rams, who have only one regular player back from the state championship team.

Elgin squeezed out a 25-24 halftime lead over Rockford West and widened this to 43-38 at the close of the third period. But West roared back and outscored the Maroons 24-12 in the final stanza to win.

Pinckneyville Wins Unstopped West now has six straight wins. It was Elgin's initial defeat in four outings. Johnny Wessles of Elgin topped the scoring with 18 points, followed by W. Russ Parker with 17.

Pinckneyville, always a contender in the deced, picked up its 54th home win in a row, knocking Johnston City 62-49. The Panthers

U. S. Players Sweep Davis Cup Matches Over Sweden

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Young Hamilton Richardson, who just came along for the ride, and steady Tony Trabert scored impressive singles victories today to give the United States Davis Cup team a clean sweep over Sweden in their interzone finals.

Richardson, the U. S. intercollegiate champion from Baton Rouge, La., filled in admirably for the Yanks' veteran campaigner, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, as he whipped Sven Davidson, 6-0, 6-3, 6-3, while Trabert, of Cincinnati, downed Lennart Bergelin, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

The U. S. players had clinched a berth opposite defending champion Australia in the forthcoming challenge round by winning Friday's doubles match.

Expect Frick To Reject Kiner Pay Cut

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to reject slugger Ralph Kiner's 40 per cent pay cut today in order to avoid setting a precedent in player-management contract negotiations.

J. Norman Lewis, the attorney who represents the players, indicated that Commissioner Ford Frick would refuse to approve Kiner's new contract with the Cleveland Indians which calls for a slice from $65,000 to $40,000. Major league rules state a player may not be cut more than 25 per cent.

Reynolds Disapproves "The commissioner already has made up his mind about Kiner," Lewis said. "It states very plainly in the rules that a player cannot be cut more than 25 per cent—and there are no exceptions."

Kiner's new contract was approved by American League President Will Harridge but Frick has held up his decision pending discussions with Lewis and the player representatives. Frick is said to fear that approval of the contract would set a precedent whereby clubowners could bring pressure to bear in future negotiations with individual players.

Reynolds Disapproves Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees, the American League's player representative, plainly indicated his disapproval of Kiner's contract.

"I can't understand why he did such a thing," said Reynolds, who probably will be asked this year to take the legal 25 per cent reduction. "I know I'd never do it."

Asked if other player representatives resented Kiner's gesture, Reynolds said he "had not as yet talked to any of them."

Lewis, however, indicated that Kiner's fellow players were nearly unanimous in their disapproval.

No AEC Building Projects in Near Future: Strauss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans no more building projects in the multi-billion category for the immediate future.

"We'll always be spending some millions of dollars on construction," AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said. But plans for major expansion are complete "as far as we know," he said.

His statement clearly meant that when current plant expansion is completed, U. S. atomic installations will be turning out nuclear weapons and fuels rapidly enough to meet all anticipated military and peacetime needs.

The wartime atomic plants cost $2,200,000,000. Since the war, there have been three huge expansion programs costing a total of nearly $6,000,000,000.

The AEC has added huge new plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., and built three new production facilities, each in the $1,000,000,000 class, at Savannah River, S. C.; Paducah, Ky., and Portsmouth, Ohio.

CHRISTMAS CAROL

They are not wise, these three small men. They are simple in the way of children. They bear little semblance to the three Princes who came to Christ's manger to pay homage . . . save that they, too, bear gifts, offering them with a song, a Christmas carol upon their lips.

Behind them stands the Church, the home of Christ, the house that welcomes those who would visit Him. These youngsters are among His regular visitors, and for them Christmas has a very special meaning.

Though they will have a tree trimmed with shining ornaments, brightly wrapped packages, fun and laughter, they will be deeply conscious of the true meaning of this glorious season. Through their church they have learned the wonders of God's love—which endures not just at Christmas but throughout every day of every year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plans to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Unto You, a Savior'

Psalm 148; Matthew 1:18-25
GOLDEN TEXT: "O come, let us worship and bow down. Let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker." (Psalm 95:6)

INTRODUCTION: What is Christmas to you? It should be a season of real rejoicing. It should be a season of heart-felt thanksgiving. Christmas-time is the season of year that we celebrate the birthday of Christ. Millions of people seem to have forgotten this.

The world received its greatest gift when Christ was born. This gift came from God out of His heart of love. Every Christian person who has ever lived has benefited by this gift. Christ said of himself: "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." Salvation is a "gift of God" and can be accepted only as such. (Ephesians 2:8)

Therefore, in the words of the Psalmist, we should "praise the Lord." This should be a season of praise and thanksgiving on the part of all of us.

I THE HEAVENS PRAISE HIM (Psalm 148:1-3)

Here the Psalmist reminds us that the angels praise Him, the stars and moon and sun praise Him, and all His hosts praise Him. We are reminded of the night when the angels and heavenly hosts appeared to the lowly shepherds and sang: "Glory to God in the highest." On this night Jesus was born of the virgin, Mary, and all of heaven came praising Him.

II ALL THE EARTH PRAISE HIM (Psalm 148:11-13)
The Psalmist calls people of every rank to praise Him. The princes, kings, judges, poor, men and women are all called upon to worship and praise the Lord. Don't forget the youth and children. The Psalmist mentions them especially.

This is the children's special season of the year. Parents should see that they are taught the real meaning of Christmas. Yes, they are going to receive and exchange many gifts. That is good. However, it would be a wonderful thing for parents to gather the children together on Christmas day and read again the story of the birth of Christ to them from the Bible. Tell them of the love gift of God to them and to the world. What a wonderful way to celebrate Christmas and to praise the Lord!

III PRAISE THE SON OF MAN (Matthew 1:21-23)
The virgin birth is beyond the understanding of the mind of man. Yet, it is one of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity. We accept this fact by faith, because God has said it. God had to take on human flesh, walk among men, endure all things, suffer physical death, conquer death and sin and ascend back to His rightful place in heaven, in order to complete man's salvation."

We do not understand all things in the Bible. Neither can we, while on earth, understand the mind of God. However, we can believe Him and praise Him for His blessings toward us.

IV WE PRAISE OUR SAVIOR (Matthew 1:21-23)

God told Joseph that the Child should be called "Emmanuel," which means, "God with us." He should be called "Jesus," for He shall save his people from their sins."

Friends, this is the very heart of Christmas. You may be living in the darkness of sorrow, heartache and even sin; but praise His Name. He has come to light your life this Christmas.

CONCLUSION (Matthew 1:24-25)
Once each year you celebrate a birthday or an anniversary. At this season each year we pause to praise God "from whom all blessings flow" for His gift of love, our Savior, "Unto you a Savior is born." Let us not forget Him this Christmas.

And now, let me wish for you a very merry Christmas filled with all the blessings your heart desires.
